

UQ Art Museum Student Engagement Council

Summary:

The UQ Art Museum's Student Engagement Council gives voice to the UQ student body. It offers feedback and ideas to the UQ Art Museum relating to the creative program and how to best engage with university students.

What you will bring to the role:

- Knowledge of art or art museums is NOT necessary! We want to hear from students
- This is a volunteer position requiring 2 to 3 hours per month
Be available to meet at the UQ Art Museum, on the last Monday of every month from 4.00 to 5.00 pm. (The Council will NOT meet during exam block)
- Offer feedback on ways to inform and engage students with art, culture and creativity at the UQ Art Museum
- Offer feedback on how students can make an impact on the UQ Art Museum

What you will receive in return:

- Eligible for the UQ Employability Award (supplementary experience)
- Gain hands-on industry experience
- The chance to develop your professional skills
- The opportunity to enhance your leadership, interpersonal, and team-work-skills

- The chance to be creative
- The opportunity to make new friends/ networks
- Professional references
- Free pizza and soft drinks will be provided at council meetings

All students are encouraged to apply:

- Postgraduate/ Undergraduate
- International/ Domestic
- Indigenous and Torres Strait Islander
- Full-time/ Part-time

Criteria:

- You must be a current student enrolled in courses at UQ
- You will commit a minimum of one semester to the Council
- You will bring an energetic, passionate and enthusiastic approach and fresh ideas

How to apply:

Email a short introduction to yourself answering the following questions (no more than 500 words):

- Why would you like to be a part of the UQ Art Museum Student Engagement Council?
- What would you bring to the UQ Art Museum Student Engagement Council?
- Give some examples of what you could do to encourage students of UQ to engage with art, culture and creativity at UQ Art Museum.
